Split Rondos

Setup

Three 12x12 yard grids, each with a cone on every corner. Six players per grid: four Xs, one on each side of the grid, and two Os inside. All 18 players work, GKs included. The diagram shows one grid.

Eight passes in a row scores 1 point. A split pass between the two Os scores 2. When an O wins the ball, that O swaps with the X who lost it.

Play 4 rounds of 3 minutes with 45 seconds rest. Rounds 3 and 4 are 2-touch max.

Sequence

1. X1 passes to X2.
2. X4 checks along the side of the grid to open a lane between O1 and O2.
3. X2 passes to X4 between O1 and O2. A split pass scores 2 points.

Coaching points

- Check your shoulder before the ball arrives. Know where the split lane is.
- Open your body. Point your hips where you want to play.
- Move along your side to make the angle. Don't stand still.
- Firm pass through the middle. Watch the weight, not just the direction.

Cone Pass Movement

Scan Split Score

Setup

A 45x35 yard field in the middle third with a 4-yard end zone across each end, marked with cones. Xs attack the top end zone and Os attack the bottom. Seven Xs, seven Os, and two jokers (J1, J2) who play with whichever team has the ball, so the team in possession is always 9v7. Jokers can't score or enter an end zone. The GKs work separately.

A point is a completed pass to a teammate who checks into the end zone and lays it back. It's 2 points if the entry pass is first-time or comes right after a directional first touch.

Rounds are 4 minutes or first to 5 points, with 60 seconds between rounds. Play 3 rounds and swap the jokers each round. A ball out of play restarts with the other team from their own end zone. Progression: 2-touch max.

Sequence

1. X1 passes to X3.
2. X3 takes a directional first touch forward into space.
3. X7 checks into the end zone.
4. X3 passes to X7 in the end zone, between O5 and O7.
5. X7 passes back to X6. The entry came off a directional first touch, so it scores 2 points.

Coaching points

- Check your shoulder before the ball arrives.
- Have two options before you receive. Decide before the ball gets there.
- Open your hips toward where your first touch is going.
- First touch out of your feet and into space.
- Pass and move.
- Watch the weight of the pass, not just the direction.
- Be decisive. Fast and wrong beats slow and perfect.

Through the Middle

Setup

A 70x50 yard field with a full-size goal and a GK at each end, split into thirds with cones. Eight Xs attack the top goal and eight Os attack the bottom.

Before the ball can enter the attacking third, a player has to receive it in the middle third and play it on. A long ball over the middle is a turnover. A goal that comes from a split pass or a directional first touch in the middle third counts double.

Play 3 blocks of 7 minutes with 90 seconds rest. The last block is free play with no conditions. GKs restart with a pass or throw.

Sequence

1. X3 passes to X5 in the middle third.
2. X5 takes a directional first touch forward.
3. X8 runs in behind, between O2 and O3.
4. X5 passes to X8 between O2 and O3.
5. X8 shoots. The goal came from a split pass, so it counts double.

Coaching points

- Find the player between the lines. Don't skip the middle.
- Play forward when it's on, recycle when it isn't.
- Time the run in behind with the receiver's first touch.
- Same cues as Scan Split Score: scan, open hips, directional first touch.
